RED DEER HOCKEY CLUB ORGANIZE

Mr. C. C. Gamble filled the position of chairman for the evening very ably.

Another notable thing about the peace of Utrecht is that Great Britain became a major power on the international stage. The treaty and still holds all that was important of what she got, while the other provisions of the treaty, in the greater part, have long since been forgotten.

Through the Duke of Savoy was made a king, the House of Savoy to-day rules all Italy except Savoy; it belongs to France. England got the Channel Islands, Gibraltar, and from France Acadia (Nova Scotia), Newfoundland and the Hudson Bay territory, and from both France and Spain valuable trading privileges in New France.

Great Britain manifested then, as she has afterward, a shrewd insight into the future development of the world, and the points of vantage in the future.

described by Mr. Elkins as follows: The system consists of forming an electrical circuit through the earth by tapping a series of electrodes into the soil, one at each of a number of points, say, along a dry water-hole, valley, or indentation, placing a series of batteries on top of the earth, to the positive pole of each electrode, and connecting the negative pole of each battery to a common wire. This hand wire is then taken out over the field in any direction and for any distance, and all the electrodes are connected to it. The current flows from the anode or positive pole to the cathode or negative pole. When the hand wire is connected to a travel magnet, the electric currents varied from one to the other of the charged poles by the path of least resistance, and the system is used to determine the position of the earth's conductivity of electricity is absolutely correct. Oil and its constituent components have the least resistance to the current, and through which electricity cannot pass, it therefore follows that an oil-pool in the path of the electrical current will have the least resistance to the said currents, forcing them to go around the pool, and also resulting in an appreciable resistance. In the present analysis, both of these factors required, these resistances on an extremely delicate meter in the hands of an operator, on the surface of the earth.

Drury was the unanimous choice for Premier of the United Farmers and of the Ontario Agricultural Association. At the Legislature at a joint conference with the U. F. O. headquarters this afternoon he was elected Premier. The new government was practically composed of all the people who were disappointed, and the government would be ready on short notice to take any action that might be required and his ministers. Mr. Drury said that his government would adequately take care of the people's demands for prohibition, and would oppose any class legislation. It is believed that a bill for the prohibition of the sale of the main stems of the new Cabinet, and a bill for the prohibition of the higher tax on unimproved land, higher graduated income tax, higher inheritance tax, and a bill for the improvement, income tax on profits.

Mr. Drury has no seat in the Legislature. He is a member of the Ontario Farmers' Union, and has offered to resign in his favor. He farms 250 acres in the township of North York, and is a son of the late H. H. Chas. Drury, and one of Ontario's most prominent farmers. He is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, was master of the Grange for many years, and is a member of the Dominion Council of Agriculture, and has been a leader in Ontario agriculture.

MR. HAGGERTY'S
CLOSING OUT SALE

Owing to the sale of his farm to Calgary parties, Mr. F. J. Haggerty, of this district, has the opportunity of November 11, the whole of his valuable purebred and grade stock, machinery and household goods, at a closing out biggest sale ever held in the west country and one of the biggest in this district, and the opportunity of some choice purebred and high grade stock, some standard farm implements and machinery, and some good furniture, is one that is to be passed by. See the list. Auctioneer Walsh is handling the big sale, and intends to get things going at 10 o'clock.

So the after effects of the war are still with us, so once more Flanders fields, with the shattered gan, the wooden cross, the lonely grave, come back to us. One more of our heroic men has made the supreme sacrifice for us after suffering for two years. He put up a good fight. He had a strong, brave heart, but he fought against great odds, and had to give in at last; but he faced death as fearlessly as he did the German guns, and we feel there was a Great General in shining armour gave him a hearty welcome as he crossed the great divide.

OPENING OF NEW HALL

The opening night at the Community Hall was a success from every standpoint. The decorations were splendid. The entertainment was splendidly carried out, the reception was a thoroughly most pleasing, and he supper all that could be desired, 125 people sitting at tables, with the W.V.A. orchestra furnishing good music for the dancing. About forty returned boys were present, while the cleared receipts were $175. The Women's Institute are to be congratulated upon the success of their endeavor. They are giving another dance in the hall on the evening of November 14th, with the same orchestra, and a good time is assured to all. They have recently purchased a splendid new Stanley piano for the hall.

The following list of names of members who have helped in the building of the Community Hall, if made tentatively, any names have been omitted, or amount of work not credited properly, will they kindly communicate same to the Secretary or President of the Association.

There is a real coal famine in the city. But the dealers are doing all in their power to keep up with their orders and supply their customers. The volume of business on the railroads, and the very unusual cold weather, all helps to hamper shipping, but it is hoped no one will be plagued to suffer.

A man named Joseph Faline caretaker of a church in Calgary, was fined $500, or five months in jail, Saturday morning, for running a whisky and brandy still in a room over the Sunday School in the church building. He had not paid his fine yesterday.

Wm. Reid has sold a farm in Valley Centre to Samuel Pollock, of Calgary, adjoining the farm of F. L. Moore. He is building a residence on the property. C. J. Bacon has purchased one of the Dennison quarters, Balmoral, from Jas. Cruickshank, while Councillor Stuart has sold his interests to his brother-in-law,

Dr. Parsons and M.H.O. Dr. George diagnosed the illness of a lady on the C.P.R. train going north Wednesday morning as due to smallpox. After consultation it was decided to lock the car, shift it to the end of the train, and to take the sick lady and the passengers in the car to Edmonton, where they were turned over to the Provincial Board of Health officers.

This week of the death of her brother, G. R. Bradley, who resides at Kent, state of Washington. He passed away Saturday last, November 1st, aged 62 years. He took a stroke last year, and Mr. and Mrs. Cole visited him last summer. He took a second stroke last week and only lived a short time. Mrs. Cole has the sympathy of numerous friends in her bereavement.

The Aftermath of Action

(By Henry Chas. Butler)

A PRIVATE'S PHILOSOPHY

It was in "Blighty," and he was a private, out of the trenches, recovering from wounds. Quiet he lay, in the rich green fields, listening to the singing of birds, the humming of insects, the droning of bees and, though far from the trenches, over and above in the hinterland of his consciousness, caught the echo of shot and shell, drowning the merry sounds of all the life around him, and reminding him of the struggle of the life of human beings in the strife yonder. When his mind was still again, and only the soothing sounds of the birds and insects could be heard, he pondered over the harshness of human nature and made comparison with the peacefulness of the life into which he had wandered to brood awhile. Then, as he recalled all the agony of struggling and striving in which humanity was engaged, he wondered whence it came and whether it all was worth the effort.

As he lay thinking he gazed up into the heavens with restless eyes at the vast expanse of blue, for no cloud was visible, he was alone with the world, and of which the chaplain had often spoken. He remembered much that had been reiterated concerning an afterlife that all would experience as they surrendered their last moment to the present life. He recalled the world beyond all time and space, to which he had been told that this earthly sphere had crumbled away into dust. That, the source whence all life came and the end toward which we go, and he cried out with him, "Can all this be true?"

Again the multitudinous noises of war swept through his fevered brain, mocking his thoughts and setting his soul at naught. He arose, and as he journeyed back to the city he passed through a churchyard and saw a woman weeping over the grave of her soldier lad, who had come home only to die at the close of the campaign. As he looked he saw all her hopes, that she had built up on behalf of her lad, seemed to be crushed with one blow, from her heart, and instead there dwelt a great sorrow. And he questioned whether life was worth living for all its sorrow and what the consummation of all the struggle! Then, as she moved away, he stopped.

up to where he had stood and looked upon the scene that had met his eyes, and as he read the epitaph thereon, he turned away and murmured as he went, the words that he had read, "The better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all."

As he hastened on he wondered whether the world was so weary after all, and whether his life was worth the greater than his sorrows and his achievements, and whether he had recognized that life had something better, and grander than he had ever guessed in sacrifice and service. For he realized why some were so easily satisfied with a little of life's luxuries. Why so many had striven and sacrificed and asked for nothing in return? Why so many had suffered and found that the pain and agony would be spared the pain and agony.

And he questioned, "What if this be all that men should live and die for? What if that which is the end of all that has been cherished in man's mind relating to hereafter be an idle fancy, a passing dream? What if this be the end of all that we have known? What if there be no moral order in the universe? What if there be no supreme being? What if all this be a mere nothingness, into which he has ceased to live, he passes out into a darkness, into a nothingness, into a blackness of oblivion?"

NOVA SCOTIA MAN GAINS 25 POUNDS

"I Simply Feel Like a New Man," He Says After Taking Tanlac.

"I have often seen the time I would have gladly given everything I possess for the relief a few bottles of this Tanlac has given me," said Robert McElroy, a well known contractor, living at 33 York Street, Halifax, in a statement while at Kinley's recently. "Four bottles of Tanlac has not only relieved me entirely of a case of stomach trouble that had made life miserable for me for more than five years," he continued, "but I have actually gained twenty-five pounds in weight, besides. I am not exaggerating a bit when I say I am feeling better now than I have in twenty years. Why, I was telling one of my friends the other day that I am feeling like a sixteen year old boy again. The way I have been built up and strengthened has really astounded me."

"I had been suffering, as I said, from stomach trouble and a run down condition for more than five years and until Tanlac came along I had never able to find anything to help me. My stomach just seemed to be upset all the time. Nothing tasted right or went down. I was simply unable to force down what little I did eat. My stomach would get as sour as vinegar after meals and I would blot up with tissues. I was telling one of my friends there were sharp, cramping pains all through my stomach, and the gas would press on my heart so at times I could hardly breathe."

"After going to bed at night this gas would bother me so I couldn't rest. Many a night I have gotten out of bed and walked the floor never getting a wink of sleep. I have had to lay off from work for weeks at a time just suffering agony from my stomach, and had lost all of thirty pounds in weight. I would wake up in the mornings feeling so tired and so account that it was an effort for me to get out of bed. I was habitually constipated and had a dull, aching headache nearly all the time. I had suffered so much and so long that I had about reached the point where I didn't care whether I lived or not."

"But I feel altogether different since Tanlac has straightened me out and built me up so wonderfully. Before I had finished my first bottle there was a decided improvement in my condition. I am eating three good, square meals a day and my stomach never gives me the least trouble. I don't believe I have ever enjoyed my meals more and I can eat just anything I desire before me. I have been relieved of constipation and headache and am tired, worn out feeling has left me, too. I can sleep like a log every night and get up in the mornings ready for a hearty breakfast and a good day's work. I tell you I simply feel like a new man and I am glad to give this statement to be used in telling others know what it is that has restored my health."

Tanlac is sold in Red Deer by Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Co., in Stettin by the Palace Pharmacy, Ltd., in Eekville by Eekville Drug Co., in Delburne by Eekville Drug Store, in Delburne by E. J. Hogg, and in Hespero by Macdonnell Bros.

FINNISH EDITORS IN N. Y.
GIVEN PRISON SENTENCES.

New York, October 28.—Carl Plavio and Gust Elonen, Finnish editors of a radical magazine published here, the first men convicted of criminal anarchy in the state, were sentenced yesterday to not less than four years' and not more than eight years' imprisonment. Justice Weeks, in pronouncing the sentence, stated that when the men had served their sentence their deportation would be asked.

THE SALVATION ARMY HIS LIFE RUINED BY DYSPEPSIA

St. John Hugh Macdonald, city of Winnipeg, police magistrate, while speaking recently regarding the work of the Salvation Army in the city, said, "The better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all."

His testimony of the worth to the community rings out with no uncertain sound. "I feel that Magistrate Macdonald," came in touch with the Army in my home town of Kingston, Ont. In fact I remember it commencing its operations here and recollect how the first officer who, by the way, was a lady, impressed me because of the influence she wrought on the leading citizens. This officer, by her Christian character, did much to break down the barrier of prejudice which arose against the Army and its methods.

THE ARMY AND POLICE WORK.

"I became more personally acquainted with the real work of the organization on coming to the city. I tried every remedy I heard of, but without any success, until the wife of a local merchant recommended 'Fruit-a-lives'." "I procured a box of 'Fruit-a-lives' and began the treatment, and my condition commenced to improve immediately. The dyspepsia ceased to be the burden of my life as it had been, and I was freed of Constipation."

"I feel that the new great debt to 'Fruit-a-lives' for the benefit I derived from them."

thing could be done with the man. The officer gladly consented to see what could be done for him. He was arranged for him to have a good bath, fitted him out with clothing, secured him a room in the police station, and then, with the officer's help, he was taken to his room. He was then, and was ultimately rewarded in seeing his charge take fresh courage, and today he is making good."

PLOT FOR BOMB EXPLOSIONS IS DISCOVERED

Cleveland, O., October 28.—The discovery of a plot for a series of bomb explosions next spring was announced by the police here today following the arrest last night of five men and one woman suspected of having planned the destruction of the Central Police station. Believing they are members of an anarchist circle that has been working in more than 100 cities, the police questioned the group all night in an effort to learn details of their plans or the extent of their origin. One of the men is believed by the police to have been active in the bombing of Mayor Harry L. Davis' home June 2nd last.

With the prisoners a large quantity of high explosives, one complete bomb, several incomplete bombs, a number of automatic pistols, and a supply of ammunition, and much anarchist literature were captured. The police declared the bombs were similar to those used in the bombing of Mayor Davis' house. They believe the arrest will lead to apprehensions in other cities in connection with the country-wide bomb outrage which occurred last May and June.

RIOTERS KILLED CLASHING WITH POLICE IN EGYPT

Alexandria, Egypt, October 28.—Two rioters were killed and ten others injured and 20 policemen were killed in serious nationalist demonstrations on Tuesday. The trouble arose when the police attempted to suppress a peaceable demonstration, such as have recently been a weekly feature of political activity in Alexandria. Sticks, stones, bottles and police batons were used. The arrival of the rioter of Alexandria restored order for a time. The trouble was then with troops appeared on the scene, and eventually shots were fired at the crowd. Today there was a recurrence of the trouble on the harbor side, but it was of a comparative minor character.

Cairo, October 28.—Shouts of "We don't want the British commission!" interrupted a band playing God Save the King at the public gardens yesterday, giving the signal for a nationalist demonstration. The trouble was quelled by the authorities, who placed a number of students under arrest.

It was announced in London today that the British government was considering sending to Egypt a special commission headed by Viscount Chamberlain, in order to ascertain what changes were necessary in the constitution of the protectorate.

MR. FRANK HALL
Weyburn, Ontario.

"For some two years, I was a sufferer from Chronic Constipation and Dyspepsia."

"I tried every remedy I heard of, but without any success, until the wife of a local merchant recommended 'Fruit-a-lives'."

"I procured a box of 'Fruit-a-lives' and began the treatment, and my condition commenced to improve immediately. The dyspepsia ceased to be the burden of my life as it had been, and I was freed of Constipation."

"I feel that the new great debt to 'Fruit-a-lives' for the benefit I derived from them."

thing could be done with the man. The officer gladly consented to see what could be done for him. He was arranged for him to have a good bath, fitted him out with clothing, secured him a room in the police station, and then, with the officer's help, he was taken to his room. He was then, and was ultimately rewarded in seeing his charge take fresh courage, and today he is making good."

"These are just two instances. I tell you I know of no greater agency for good than the Salvation Army. This is my chief opinion, and I speak as one who comes in personal touch with the work every day."

THE ARMY'S GOOD WORK

"Coming back to the work of the Salvation Army, I cannot do words to express my appreciation, and while I continue to do the kind of work I am doing, it will always have my warmest and whole-hearted support."

THE 1919 VICTORY LOAN The Bridge From War to Peace

No truer or more apt expression have ever coined than the above. The 1919 Victory Loan is a truly a bridge which must be crossed before we can take leave of the past and devote ourselves to the work of reconstruction. For five years all the strength of the world has been given to the supreme purpose of destruction. Our manhood, the wealth of our fields and forests, our mines and ships have been organized to destroy thousands of producers. Hundreds of our finest men left their place in industry for active service overseas.

A great proportion of these men have now returned in various stages of fitness to re-enter civil life, and the expense of bringing these men back, and the further expense of re-establishing them must be met by Canada. It is for this purpose, among others, that the 1919 Victory Loan is being placed before the people of Canada.

Canada owes it to the men who served it needs that they shall start life again with no unnecessary handicap. This is a debt of honor. The nation that forgets these things who served it a regret that it is a disadvantage compared with those who have served it. A nation as it does them really well, the worth of Canada will be judged by nations. We cannot ignore the fact that common after years of war, the burden of the world has been reduced to beggary. The good name of Canada is at stake. The bridge from war to peace can only be made absolutely safe if each one of us does his best to secure a good name rests on every citizen.

of Canada, whether he is a returned man or one of those who stayed at home. In fully subscribing for the Victory Loan, we save ourselves the necessity of going to another country for the money which we can raise ourselves if we will. Canada's progress can be financed by Canada. Canada's development can be done by Canada. Canada's men must be re-established by Canada, without outside help, and to do this Canada's 1919 Victory Loan must be subscribed for in full, within the boundaries of Canada by Canadians.

The spirit which placed Southern Alberta among the largest subscribers to previous loans of this nature still animates the people of Southern Alberta, and Southern Alberta's share of this loan will be subscribed in the same whole-hearted manner in which previous loans have been subscribed.

It is the duty of every patriotic Canadian to own a Victory Loan bond within the extreme limit of his power to purchase. We must remember, firstly, that the money will be used to discharge our debt of honor to the men who fought for Canada; secondly, that we are asked to lend money to our own government on terms which are both safe and profitable to ourselves with the best security in the world, namely, the good name of Canada; and thirdly, that our money will be spent with a view to making Canada more prosperous so that the burden of the world has been reduced to beggary. The good name of Canada is at stake. The bridge from war to peace can only be made absolutely safe if each one of us does his best to secure a good name rests on every citizen.

FOR PROFITABLE PULLETS

To get good results, pullets must be pretty well matured before they winter comes on, says Prof. M. C. Herter. A soft mass about a day from now on will do wonders in bringing on the later hatched pullets and put them into shape for laying. Equal parts of oat chop and bran or shorts with milk mixed to make a crumbly mash, fed once a day, will certainly make them grow and develop.

op. giving milk of any kind to drink will also help to mature them. Feed plenty of good hard grain, but don't throw down so much today that they waste it and then give nothing tomorrow. Use judgment in the amount given and follow out regular feeding well. A flock of pullets looked after properly this fall and winter will more than pay for the trouble. Do not keep any small, sickly and poorly fleshed pullets. Fatten them and sell at the same time as the cockerels are sold.

WOMAN STRONG AS MAN

"No Such Thing as 'Masculine' Men and 'Feminine' Women."

New York, October 24.—Young women, do you yearn for a husband who will wash the dishes, do the housework, take care of the baby, and make the pies and biscuits? You can get him, if you look around! There are just as many men who are fitted to do housework as there are who are fitted to dig ditches, run machinery and go to war.

There are no such things as "masculine" men and "feminine" women. Sex hasn't anything to do with it. Man or woman, if you belong to the "extravert" type of humanity, you are aggressive, self-confident; while if you are "introvert," you are thoughtful, hesitant, less aggressive and less sure of yourself. Women are not necessarily weak, submissive, changeable, timid or irrational, nor are men necessarily aggressive, consistent, forceful, logical or fearless.

POINTS OF DIFFERENCE
Such was the answer of Dr. Beatrice Hinkle of New York before the international conference of women physicians at the Y.W.C.A. headquarters here, to the conclusions of Dr. G. Stanley Hall of Clark College, Worcester, Mass., who addressed the conference on "Points of Difference Between Men and Women."

The more man physician held to the old fashioned idea that there are essential differences between the sexes; that the gentle art of persuasion, the "woman's way," is the power of cajolery, results from the fact that women are not as strong or aggressive as men, and that they have therefore trained themselves to accomplish results in a purely "feminine way."

"Women's motherhood," powers make her more sympathetic," said Dr. Hinkle. "Her moods are richer and more varied than those of men. She is more interested in people than men. Her ideas are more concrete and more adaptable than men's."

But Dr. Beatrice Hinkle says "No" to the assertion that woman is the weaker and men the stronger vessel.

WOMAN STRONG AS MAN

"Both men and women have suffered from the conventional assumption that the man must be the superior being and the woman the weaker vessel," she said. "Many men do not wish to be superior. They do not wish to be weak, timid and full of moods, when they are nothing of the sort."

Dr. Hinkle admits that there are probably secondary sex characteristics, but that such distinctions play no real part in the fitness of men or women to enter any field of industry, art or letters.

Differences in temperament, attributed to sex, are really a matter of type," she asserts. "The human race is divided into 'extraverts' and 'introverts' with gradations between them. There are men of each type and there are women of each type. We must remove the artificial barrier between the sexes and let them be what they are, not what we wish them to be."

A woman's work has been much more restricted than that of man. We must recognize that human beings feel in a certain way or to work at certain things because of their sex."

Dr. Hinkle believes that the qualities that women like in men and vice versa, are generally the opposites to those they themselves possess. The introvert type of man will prefer the extravert type of woman—the woman with a strong, assertive personality, will look with favor upon the man who possesses the opposite characteristics.

"Marriage ought to be finer and more enduring than ever before when the two parties to it are each of themselves, honest with each other, keeping up no traditional barrier of artificial convention," she concluded.

COLLEGE GIRLS AND MARRIAGE

It would seem that what Katherine Fullerton Gerould says in an article in the Dollmaker is true. The aims and ideas of graduates of women's colleges, that no fellow should hesitate to ask a girl to marry him merely because she has had a college education. Mrs. Gerould tells us that the college girl of today is not nearly so "high-brow" as she was fifteen or twenty years ago.

Provision you could not have both marriage and a business or professional career, which would you sacrifice? Was one question, and 522 said "marriage" and 51 "marriage," and 22 "undecided."

As to the amount of money required to marry on, 7 said less than $1,000, 168 $1,000 to $2,000, 260 $2,000 to $3,000, 133 $3,000 to $4,000, 13 $4,000 to $5,000, 14 $5,000 or more. To the question, If you follow a professional or business career, would you attempt marriage and motherhood in addition, if you met the right man? 235 said yes; 302 no, and marriage but not motherhood, 26.

IS THIS WHAT 60,000 CANADIANS DIED FOR?

From Turner's Weekly

In an interview to the Daily Mail, Marshall Foch made the following statement: "The next time England will be in the same position as the last time—she will not be ready, and we will have to wait for her."

The next war will be more than ever one of machinery. You should have laboratories with inventors always at work keeping abreast of the mechanical side of war. Many other men who hold high positions have made statements to the same end. Premier Massey of New Zealand, who passed through Canada on his way home, in an interview to the Winnipeg Free Press, said that the nations would keep their armies and navies up to strength. These men speak in kind terms of the League of Nations, but they, apparently, regard it as being of no more importance than the scheme of things than the Hague Conference. And so we are to go on in the same old way as before, only we are to start strong, then our armies and navies increasing our armies. Not only that. We have got to keep abreast of the times. Laboratories must be established, and the best brains in the country devoted to the invention of lethal weapons.

The discovery, reported recently from the United States, of a gas that would wipe out Berlin, showed what rapid progress is even now being made. In a few years the conquest of the air will be complete and the world will carry with it terrifying possibilities of slaughter. An airship may then be despatched from Europe and wipe out New York. What a wonderful world this will be if the chief employment of the nations of the earth is to be scientific preparation for each other's extermination! The recent war has taught us a great deal about killing and has shown us that, to be an efficient military power, a nation must concentrate all her energies to that end. Before the war, the race in armaments was not enough; but it was only child's play to what it would be now with our added experience in the art of destruction.

This is the harvest which some of our great leaders would have us reap from the war. Having banded ourselves together to slay millions, and having done so only after immense sacrifice and loss of life, we have learned all the baseness and depravity and madness which militarism represents, they would have us take it to our bosoms and nurse it back to life! Talk of this kind must be extremely disappointing to a vast number of men and women.

CANADA FIGHTS FOR RIGHTS IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Claims to Be One of the Eight Nations of "Chief Industrial Importance" in the World.

Washington, October 23.—Canada has filed a formal protest against the proposed opposition of the governing body of the international labor office to be established under the league of nations. The point at issue is regarded by the Canadian delegation here as of the greatest importance. It involves the right of Canada by reason of her industrial importance to name one of the members of the body, rather than to take her chance of election as one of the nations of lesser importance, from the industrial point of view.

The international labor office, which will be controlled by the governing body—forms part of the permanent organization created to further application of the labor principles embodied in the peace treaty. Its governing body is to consist of 24 members. Twelve will represent the governments; six will be elected by employers' delegates to the international labor conference, six by workers' delegates to the conference. Of the 12 government representatives, eight will be nominated by the members of the conference—which are of "chief industrial importance." The remaining four will be nominated by the other government delegates to the conference.

"INDUSTRIAL IMPORTANCE"
The issue arises over which eight nations are "of chief industrial importance" and therefore empowered each to name a representative on the governing body. The organization committee of the labor conference has reported in favor of the following: United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Japan, Switzerland, and Spain.

REASON FOR PROTEST.
If German delegates are admitted to the conference, Germany, by reason of her industrial importance, will be entitled to a seat on the governing body, and Spain, being at the end of the list, will cease to be numbered among the eight. Now, the position taken by Canada is that she should rank as one of the eight nations of "chief industrial importance," and to which she has deposited a protest. The Dominion government holds that she is entitled to be so regarded on the grounds: (1) Of population; (2) of relative industrial importance.

ONE BOLTER FROM ONTARIO COALITION

DECLARES FARMERS HAVE BROKEN FAITH.

Toronto, October 30.—The new U.F.O. Labor coalition in Ontario already has a bolter. After taking part in the deliberations of the party on Saturday, and again yesterday without evidence of any difference of opinion, Mayor W. M. MacBrade of Brantford, successful candidate in the Labour interests in South Brant, last night bolted the final conference of the U.F.O. and Labor parties.

The conference was discussing positions late last night when the mayor picked up his hat and coat and left the room.

The Labor group thought that perhaps the confirmation of Walter Rollo, of Hamilton, in his position as mayor, would have caused the decision of Mayor MacBrade.

Mayor MacBrade and Mr. Rollo are members of the Labor party committee which, with the U.F.O. committee to reach a programme satisfactory to both parties.

MATTER OF POSITIONS
In his explanation, Mr. MacBrade declared that the farmers had broken faith with the labor men. He intimated that his defection was the result of Mr. Rollo's declining to immediately allocate a second cabinet position to the Laborites. Mr. MacBrade said:

"I shall take my seat in the legislature as an Independent-Labor man and will continue to do my duty by the people who elected me, without fear or favor."

James Simpson, who was deputed to reply to Mayor MacBrade of Brantford, if the mayor should desire to publicly discuss his differences, issued the following statement last night:

"You can say that in every matter which involves the naming of the second portfolio for labor, Mayor MacBrade is in perfect agreement with the U.F.O. and that it was only Mayor MacBrade's personal ambition to give him reasonable time to determine which portfolio other than the labor should go to the Labor group."

Mr. MacBrade's departure from the attitude which the remainder of the Labor group would be prepared to assume.

WHY WINTER CUTTING IS BEST
Fungi and insects do not attack wood out of doors in cold weather. By the time winter weather arrives, the wood is partly seasoned and somewhat less susceptible to attack. It is for this reason that winter cutting is advantageous and not so common of a smaller amount of moisture or sap in the wood in winter, as the popular belief has it.

FRIEND IN NEED
"Yes," said the young man pensively, "a dog I once had saved my life."

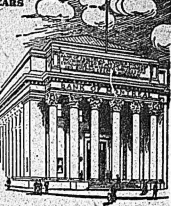

"Tell me about it," said the young woman, with eager interest. "I told him for two pounds," said the young man, "when I was nearly starving."

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

In four weeks' time municipal elections will be with us again, and it will be the duty of citizens to select a Mayor and three Councilors to represent them for the next year on the City Council board.

With regard to the Mayoralty, we feel that Mayor W. E. Lord should be urged to accept a second term. He has given valuable service to the city during the past year. He has a thorough grasp of the financial situation as it exists at the present time, and there is probably no one who could do the work quite so well as he could, or would have the same grasp of affairs that he has for the coming year. Next year will see a big forward movement in the growth of Red Deer, and we should have a keen business man at the head of affairs with experience. So far as we can see, Mayor Lord would be returned by acclamation should he consent to stand.

With regard to the Council, the three retiring members are Aldermen Simpson, Stone and Galbraith, all men who have given good service to the city, and are worthy of reelection if they consent to stand.

THE U.F.A. WINS IN COCHRANE

We are no good as a prophet, it seems, as, contrary to our predictions, last week, Mr. Moore, the U.F.A. candidate in Cochrane, was elected on Monday by a majority of 145. We did not think it possible for a farmer to beat the Edmonton machine, but Mr. Moore developed some very strong friends in his campaign towards the end, and the government very foolishly, tilted with pride and conceit at former victories, determined to test their strength against that of the farmers of Alberta, and they thought they saw a chance to snatch a snap verdict and teach the old moss-backs a lesson. They are wiser, if more humble, men today. They cannot help but read the handwriting on the wall. The farmers could not see that there was any more class legislation in voting for a farmer than there was in voting for a Labor candidate, a Soldier, a Socialist or a Liberal. They felt the truth had come to protest and vote against the extravagant expenditures of the government, against the ever-increasing taxation and against a few loud-mouthed orators, with less real ability perhaps than the average farmer has got, running this great country of ours.

GET IN ON THE GROUND FLOOR

"Victory Bonds Feature Markets" was a newspaper heading which summarized the previous day's dealings on the Montreal Stock Exchange on October 15. The item which had that Victory Bond transactions had totalled nearly $2,255,000, at premiums for long term bonds ranging between 3 and 5 per cent., while for short term issues the premium was between one and three per cent. Transactions in 1913 Victory bonds alone reached a shade less than $1,615,000 at a premium of three and three-quarters per cent. A more extraordinary proof of the soundness of Victory Bonds as an investment than these figures for a single day in the financial metropolis of Canada could not be conceived. Bear in mind that the trading took place on the eve of the flotation of a large new bond issue—the 1919 Victory Loans. Were there the slightest lack of confidence in the glittered character of the investment, the prospect of a new bond issue would tend to depress the market. On the contrary it has boomed! The reason is plain. In the great money markets of the world Canadian bonds are regarded as the safest and most remunerative security available to the ordinary investor. The new 1919 Loan gives a chance for everybody in Canada to get in on the ground floor, as they say on the curb.

CORRESPONDENCE.

October 29, 1919.
The Editor, The News,
Red Deer, Alberta.

Sir—
The gentleman who has written to The News criticizing Christian Science, says that "Christian Science makes a unique claim to a monopoly of the method of Jesus." This is not so. On the contrary, we recognize that it is the duty and privilege of all Christians to practice the same method of healing. Christ Jesus' teaching about divorce is quite clear. Besides the passage in Mark 10:1-12, the parallel passage in Matthew 19:3-9 needs also to be considered. Particular attention may be directed to the 9th verse in the latter passage, and to the exception therein mentioned. The two passages refer to the same occasion, and the two records of the Master's words together make clear what constitutes a Christian basis for divorce. As another passage, namely, Matthew 5:32, is also pertinent. It was, on this basis that Mrs. Eddy secured a divorce from her second husband. When the facts of the husband's desertion and adultery were submitted to the court, the decree of divorce was at once granted.

The critic tries to prove that Christ Jesus' method of healing was not purely spiritual. In support of his contention he refers to the healing of the man who had been born blind. On that occasion Jesus spat on the ground and made clay of the spit. (John 9:6). Spitting, according to Hebrew custom, was an expression of profound contempt. Jesus thus showed His contempt for matter as an aid to healing, or as a means of healing, by spitting on it. Through his little ministry Christ Jesus rejected material modes and relied wholly on the spiritual. Christian Science makes this fact plain and practical.

Sincerely yours,
Peter B. Biggins,
Christian Science Committee on Publication.

POPLAR RIDGE

About half of the grain is still in the stock. Mr. Demas is threshing and doing good work.

Mrs. Geo. E. Wood had a little stranger come to her home in the shape of a little daughter, twelve weeks old. James Cole went down to Vulcan last week and brought back his son and daughter, who are now residing in Red Deer with their aunt, Mrs. Patton, where they will go to school.

Dr. Banton's new residence is nearly complete, but the cold weather has put a damper on the work. We hope to see it finished soon.

The boys were very good and quiet on Halloween. Only a gate or two were missing.

There is some talk of a box social in the near future. Miss Ruth Atkins gave a birthday party to a large number of her friends on Friday evening last, when she reached the age of twenty-one. She received a number of very nice birthday gifts from her friends, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brownrigg and daughter were out from Red Deer.

NEWS WEEKLY SERMON

By REV. GEO. D. ARMSTRONG

The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working—James 5:16.

Nothing is more important in the work of the Church than that the meaning of prayer should be clearly understood, and that this divinely human power should be used to the fullest extent.

"If prayer be a veritable dynamo of power, why is so little accomplished? Either prayer is a mere formality without vital significance, or it is potential energy that few have learned to use."

Most of us have been taught at our mother's knee some simple form of prayer—we have learned to ask God for things. Practical experience has taught us that all our requests are not granted, and the simple view of prayer of our childhood days does not meet the need of mature manhood. As our mind becomes reflective, our idea of prayer is changed. It may be continued as a mere habit—a form of godliness without power. It may remain as an impulse, which under special stress induces us to call upon God. Started with a sense of danger, or oppressed with a feeling of great responsibility and of our helplessness, we have come to understand the experience of Lincoln. "I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go; my own wisdom and that of all around me seemed insufficient for the day." Or we may continue to pray from a sense of duty, using prayer as a spiritual exercise, practicing the presence of God. The quality of prayer is conditioned by our physical, mental, moral and spiritual attainments.

There are longings, strivings, yearnings. For the good they comprehend not; And their feeble hands are powerless. Groping blindly in the darkness of Touch God's right hand in the darkness.

And are lifted up, strengthened. Or prayer may be the very highest energy of which the human mind is capable, the sublimest strains that reach the Majesty on high.

In one of his poems, St. Walter Foss expresses the situation in which many people have found themselves. "A boy was born 'mid little things, Between a little world and sky. And dreamed not of the cosmic rings Round which the circling planets fly. He lived in little works and thoughts, Where little ventures grow and rise, And paced and ploughed his little plots, And prayed upon his little God. But as the mighty system grew, His faith grew faint with mystic scars; For ambulance (Stone's) call 172.

The cosmos widened to his view But God was lost among his stars. Another boy in lowly days, As he, to little things was born, But gathered lore in woodland ways And from the glory of the stars. As wider skies broke on his view, God greatness in his growing mind. Each year he dreamed his God anew And left his older life behind. He saw the boundless scheme dilate In star and blossom, sky and cloud; And, as the universe grew great, And from its glory, to a greater God.

"The form of religious expression must keep pace with increasing wisdom and widening experience. The prayer of manhood must be different from the prayer of childhood, as we cease to be children and learn to be men. The childhood view of asking God for things will pass into a sense of fellowship with God in all the interests of life. "Rejoice we are called to that which doth provide, and get partake." We shall have a new sense of the personal presence of God and of His care for all mankind. A new sense of responsibility and of privilege shall lead us to take a real personal interest in all who are whether they have yet discovered the truth, members of the family of God. In other words, our growing prayer shall express itself in positions of communion and in intercession, growing in grace, possessing spiritual insight, having the love of God shed abroad in our hearts. We shall be able to interpret for ourselves and to interpret the life and spirit of Jesus Christ. We shall walk in His way—the true and living way—and shall find life's deepest desires realized in becoming Christlike.

HELIGOLAND RESUMING.

The islanders, forced to migrate to the mainland during the war, have come back to Heligoland, and the smallest nation in the world, as the Heligolandians like to call themselves, is hoping that by another season the island will again be a popular summer resort. The thought that most disturbs them is the possibility that the demolition of the fortifications by the enemy's commission which is presently to arrive for that purpose may work some injury to the natural beauties of Heligoland. A correspondent in one of his letters to have a last look at the German engineering which will soon be demolished, reports a state of general satisfaction among the islanders, and finds that Prussianism seems to have left no impress on the civil population. The feeling is everywhere that the future looks full of promise, and that the past is well got rid of.

For ambulance (Stone's) call 172.

AMBER MONOPOLY

ONE

Amber is Lithuanian. The Lithuanian shore of the Baltic Sea is the only district in the world where the collecting and digging of amber is a practical industry. Practically all the products of amber—the necklaces, cigarette and cigar holders, buttons, pipe stems and hat pins which are seen every day in the shops of the world—are really Lithuanian.

in that they come from Lithuanian soil. During modern years this industry has been closely guarded as a Prussian government monopoly. In the future, with Lithuania a republic, the Lithuanian amber trade will be with considerable profit, despite the fact that amber is one of the few things in the world which has diminished in value during recent years. Baltic amber is not only collected along the shore, but it is mined from the so-called "blue earth" layers of the tertiary period well into the interior of Lithuania. Excavations in Greece, Italy and Egypt have shown that Baltic amber was famous hundreds of years before the Christian era. Herodotus wrote of it, and beads with the ancient Lithuanians must have bartered, were discovered in the Etruscan ruins of Mikonai, dating back to 1600 B.C.

The Clydesdale Stallion, Royal Kirkton (Imp.)

[13953] (16030)

Brown, face and legs white, foaled May 15, 1909, bred by Geo. W. Finlayson, Kirkton, Cullross, Scotland. An unusually good specimen, typical of Clyde breed, close coupled, low down blocky horse, good disposition, and plenty of good true straight action; weight 1810 lbs. This horse has proved himself a sure breeder, and a sire whose offspring are all uniform and true to type. Sired by Silvercup, who was first at Highland and Agricultural Society Show in 1900, 1901 and 1903, also first at the Royal Show in 1901 and 1902. Silvercup was also by Burrows' Pride, the great est horse the breed has ever known. On the dam side, Royal Kirkton is particularly well bred, being descended from a rare line of breeding mares. His dam Dorothy was by the great show horse Labor. Royal Kirkton holds a First Class Provincial Certificate, No. 371. GRATUITY PROPOSAL REJECTED

MANY REFORMS WILL BE SUBMITTED

Ottawa, October 25.—The parliamentary committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment rejects the proposal for a general distribution of grants or gratuities, on the ground that the country is financially unable to pay in its findings which are likely to be submitted to parliament. The general scheme for the re-establishment of the G.W.V.A., and also the $2,000 gratuity scheme, are thus rejected.

The G.W.V.A. proposal was to concern men who were able to establish their need before a national board. The parliamentary committee considers the necessity of further re-establishment, and in certain particular recommendations improvements and extensions of the work now carried on by the various departments of the government, together with some new lines of work to be undertaken involving an estimated expenditure of $35,000,000.

PROBABLE EXPENDITURES
The following are details of the probable expenditures as recommended:

Gratuities to Canadians who enlisted in the Royal Air Force and other imperial units, $3,000,000.
Rebates of transportation expenses paid by dependents who returned to Canada prior to November 11, 1918, $1,000,000.

Provisions for extra items of expenditure such as clothing, allowance to S.C.R. patients, pay and allowance to trainees taken on strength of S.C.R. and subsequently not approved, care of sub-normal cases; necessities; cases; pensions, under arrangement with patriotic fund; loans to disabled men for tools, equipment, training and education; cashing of cheques at par for Canadians who joined imperial units; unemployed re-returned during winter, estimated about $25,000,000.

FINDINGS OF COMMITTEE.
The findings as they are likely to be submitted to parliament may be summarized as follows:

1.—Free clothing to patients of S.C.R.
2. Equalization of gratuities for imperial.

3. Equalization of pay and allowances for those undergoing medical treatment with S.C.R.

4. Vocational courses lengthened when necessary.

5. Delay in authorizing vocational course to be reduced.

6. Pay and allowance for those recommended for vocational training and subsequently not approved.

7. Immediate investigation of problem cases with immediate financial assistance when necessary.

8. Suggestions that trainees receive allowances upon completion of course until employment found, rejected.

9. Training with industries recommended to graduate scale allowances.

10. Employment female war workers to be confined to dependents of soldiers.

11. Extension of follow-up system.

INCREASE OF PENSIONS
12. Suggested increase of pensions referred to committee on pensions next session with recommendation, that relief when necessary be tendered through patriotic fund.

13 S. B. to give special attention to the granting of loans upon small holdings.

14. Investigation of irrigation small holding scheme of Noulain Cauchon, C.E.

15. Issue of special badge to ex-members of naval forces.

16. Exchange at par for former members of naval forces.

17. Abolition of private employment offices.

18. Refund of transportation expenses to dependents who returned prior to Nov. 11, 1918.

19. Special consideration for employment for those vocationally trained in a permanent capacity in the civil service.

20. Special latitude to S. C. R. for selection of staff.

21. No provisions for overseas mechanics.

22. Loan not exceeding $500 to disabled men vocationally trained.

23. Loan not exceeding $500 to disabled men not otherwise eligible for vocational training.

24. Investigation into life insurance for disabled men.

25. Investigation into possibilities of unemployment insurance.

26. Housing proposals rejected.

THE FARMERS' SIDE OF IT.
Nowadays farmers are showing a disposition to take part in public affairs, and look to their own interests instead of handing them over to others. This is disconcerting to established political coteries. That is why many people look to see farmers take hold of the Victory Loan 1919 and help record a splendid success. Former Victory Loans have been liberally subscribed by farmers. A considerable part of the sums realized from the Victory Bonds of 1917 and 1918 has been advanced to Great Britain, Canada's greatest customer in the matter of farm products. As a result the exports from Canadian farms have risen from $200,000,000 in 1915 to approximately $497,000,000 in 1918. The estimated value of Canada's field crops has in five years risen from a sum slightly less than $553,000,000 to $1,355,000,000. The rapid expansion was largely brought about by the trade arrangements rendered possible by the success of past loans. It is one of the main purposes of the 1919 Loan to maintain these conditions, and farmers will be wise enough to buy the bonds which mean the permanent well being of the industry—as well as a good personal investment.

IDLE THOUGHTS OF A BUSY FARMER

"Are you a lawyer?" asked the excited man of A. H. Russell. "I am, sir, what can I do for you?" "I'm in the grocery business, a woman called me a profiteer. Is that word actionable?" "It certainly is—if she can prove it."

Organized labor is out to try and have an eight hour day law enacted, farmers and some special industries to be excluded. Now, that is all very well for labour. They want less work and more for it, but where does the farmer come in? In the busy season he works from 12 to 16 hours a day, six days a week, beside chores on Sunday. In the slack season he may work less than 8 hours, and then his Sunday's work is nearly as much as week days. Now, if the farmer were to confine his labour to 8-hour days, production would drop off by half, and prices would have to begin to go round. If farm produce were appraised and valued on an 8-hour day, with time and a half for all over time allowed in its production, the price of farm products would be so enhanced that labour would have to strike more for higher wages so as to be able to buy its bread and butter. If you take this consideration the long hours a farmer works, and the return he gets for it, he is the worst paid workman in the country except the country preacher.

Labour is anxious to affiliate with the farmer, and get the farmer to vote his way, but labour wants to fix things so he will have nothing to do and be well paid for doing it, while the farmer is to work time and a half producing his rations. As I see it, the position of labour is this, they wish the time they are to work fixed, but not the pay they are to receive, or limited labor for unlimited pay. On the other hand, they want the price of necessities fixed, in other words, farm produce. That is, the farmers' remuneration is to be fixed, but not his hours of labour, or limited pay for unlimited labour. I believe in keeping down the H. C. of L., but I also believe in labour doing its share, that isn't by O.B.U., but by more and better production. When Canada is in a position to export more than she imports, we won't hear so much about H. C. of L.

There seem to be more Patriots than Patriots in Ireland at present. About the only thing that has not gone up in price since the war are postage stamps. You can still buy 100 cent stamps for one dollar, and they are the same size as the old ones.

REVOLUTION WAS ARRANGED FOR NOVEMBER 7th

Paris, October 28.—The arrest by Swiss police of representatives of the International Youth organization, having in their possession unlimited propaganda fixing November 7th as the date for an international revolution, in Spain, France and Switzerland, land, has caused a deep impression in political circles in France. The opponents of the peace treaty are making use of the discovery in the political campaign, and are attacking the treaty on the ground that the guarantees are insufficient. The plot was organized at Stuttgart, by the "Communist" Bolshevik Youth organization, and the date,

November 7th, was chosen because it was the anniversary of the overthrow of Kerensky by Lenin. The propaganda is addressed to the Committee of the Central Seine Socialist Youth, and also to the French Central Committee of the All Socialist Youth of France. The possibility of a general strike on November 7th is being discussed at numerous meetings held outside the pale of the General Federation of Labor.

BELGIANS HAVE BIG LIST FOR PROSECUTION

Brussels, Oct. 29 (French Wireless).—The Belgian Ministry has given its approval to a list of 1,150 Germans, soldiers and civilians, who will be prosecuted on charges arising from violation of the laws of war at the time of the invasion of Belgium or during the occupation of this country by German troops, according to the Independence Belge. The list will be sent to the Peace Conference in Paris.

E. C. DRURY

NEXT PREMIER OF ONTARIO

Was Born in Simcoe County in 1878, and is the Son of Ontario's First Minister of Agriculture.

Toronto, October 28.—E. C. Drury is to be the next premier of Ontario, succeeding Sir William Hearst. Mr. Drury was the unanimous choice of the United Farmers of Ontario, and the labor representative in the new legislature at a joint conference at the U.F.O. headquarters this afternoon. It is understood that the meeting was very harmonious, and that there was an indication of the two groups pulling well together in the house, though both the U.F.O. and labor will retain their group feature to a considerable extent.

PRACTICALLY COMPLETED

Premier-elect Drury said tonight that the new government was practically completed, that all the portfolios had been allotted, and that the government would be ready on short notice to take over the reins from Sir William Hearst and his ministers. Mr. Drury said he was going home tomorrow to await the call to return to Toronto to accept from the Lieutenant-Governor the responsibility of the premiership. He intimated that this would probably take place in a very short time, as he understood Sir William Hearst had been merely waiting for information as to whom he should suggest to Lieutenant-governor as a successor before vacating.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Ten other names of united farmers were mentioned at the conference this afternoon as candidates for the U.F.O. leadership and premiership, including that of J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U.F.O., and one of its founders. Following are the names of the others proposed:

Peter Smith, North Perth; Andrew Hicks, South Huron; R. H. Grant, Carleton; Beniah Downman, Manitoulin; R. W. E. Burnaby, Richmond; Manning Doberty, Peel; Joseph Gridland, South Norfolk; W. I. Johnston, South Lanark; Earl Biggar, Brantford.

All except Messrs. Burnaby and Biggar are M.L.A.'s. It is stated that no vote was taken, and that the gentlemen named retired in favor of Mr. Drury.

As an evidence of the unanimity on the choice of Mr. Drury as leader, the Canadian Press was handed a resolution that was moved by P. Heenan, U.F.O. member elect for Kenora, and seconded by R. A. Hughes, Toronto, treasurer of the Independent labor party, the resolution being expressive of the hearty endorsement of Mr. Drury as "leader of the farmer-labor party."

DRURY IS QUESTIONED

Asked as to where he would look for a seat after being called by the Lieutenant-governor to form a government, Mr. Drury said he had an offer from Centre Simcoe and from a riding "in Southwest Ontario." He said he had not decided which he would accept, but naturally he would prefer a riding in Simcoe, his home county.

The policy of the United Farmers, so far as it has been definitely agreed upon, is outlined in an address given by Mr. Drury after his selection this afternoon. In this he stated that one of the first acts of the new government would be to carry out the mandate of the people of the province on prohibition, as declared in the recent referendum vote, and Mr. Drury expressed himself as in complete sympathy with this mandate. He pointed out that the U.F.O. had waged war on special privileges, and this policy would be continued, he said. He intimated that the new government would not stand for any class legislation.

MAKES ADDRESS

In his address Mr. Drury said he realized that the bed upon which we have been placed is likely to have more thorns than feathers.

"I don't think, however, we need entertain any fears regarding this situation," he said. "It is true we may be lacking in experience, but the situation is not one which calls for the fine arts of the politician."

DRURY'S HISTORY

Ernest Charles Drury, leader of the united farmers of Ontario, and the coming premier of the province of Ontario, was born at Crown Hill, Simcoe County, January 22nd, 1878. He is a son of the late Hon. Charles Drury, Ontario's first minister of agriculture, in the year 1888, who immediately preceded Hon. John Dryden in that office. He is a thoroughly representative farmer, and comes of a long line of farmers, his great grandfather having come from the old country and settled in Simcoe county a hundred years ago.

E. C. Drury works a farm of 250

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Royal Yeast has been the standard yeast in Canada for over 50 years, and it is a well known fact that bread made with Royal Yeast possesses a greater amount of nourishment than that made with any other.

acres in Simcoe county, near Barrie, this being the old homestead. The premier-elect graduated from the Ontario agriculture college, Guelph, in 1900. In 1905 he first became prominent as a farmer leader, and represented the farmers' association of Ontario before the Laurier tariff committee that year. He was master of the Grange for years. In 1910 he became the first secretary of the Canadian council of agriculture. He was an active advocate of reciprocity in the general elections of 1911, and supported the Liberal party in this policy.

Mr. Drury was one of the organizers of the United Farmers of Ontario in 1913, along with secretary J. J. Morrison, W. C. Good, and Col. J. Fraser. He was the first president of the united farmers' co-operative company, and is still a director of the company.

NO CLASS LEGISLATION

The new leader added: It is too early to speak of our legislative program. We have not yet been called on to form a government and it would be unwise to anticipate. We can, however, lay down certain broad principles which must and should govern us in the matter. Our war, in the past, has been waged in special privileges. We are not at this time going to abandon the principles of justice and fairness which have actuated us in the past. If we are called to power we must stand for no class legislation of whatever kind. Our legislative program must be framed for the benefit of every just and honest legitimate interest in the province. It is in the carrying out of such program, the unjust and dishonest interests get in the way, so much the worse for the latter.

LANGLEY'S APPROVAL

Regina, Sask., October 29.—Commenting on the selection of E. C. Drury as the leader of the U. F. O. in the Ontario legislature, Sir George Langley said the choice will be satisfactory to the farmers' movement all over Canada.

FARMERS PLAN MANY CHANGES IN TAX SYSTEM

Toronto, October 28.—A radical change in taxation is likely to be agreed upon as part of the legislative programme of the Farmers-Labor coalition. Following are some changes that the joint committee may agree upon today for submission to the joint caucus of conference tomorrow:

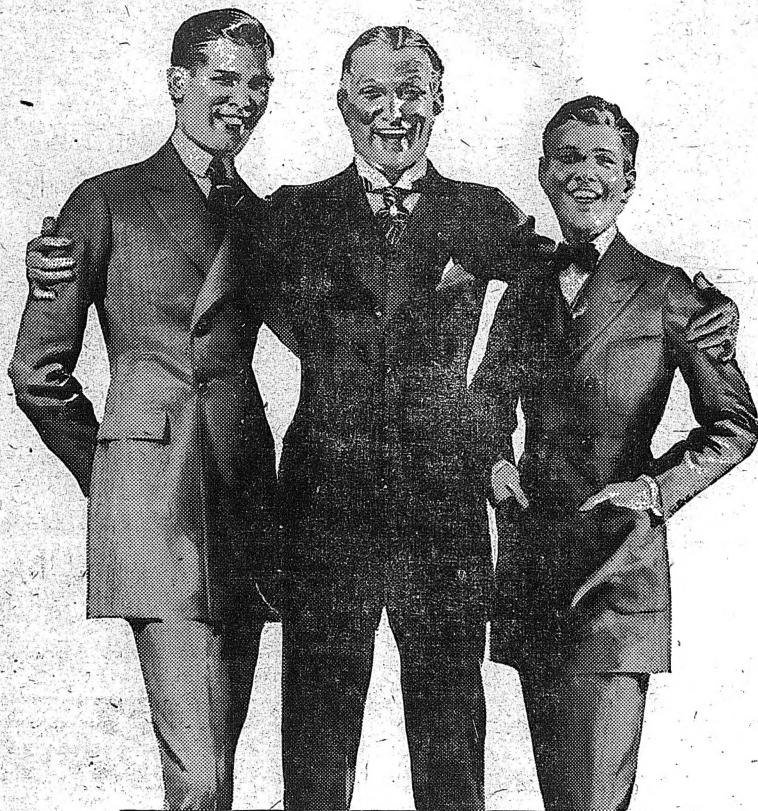

Tax on unearned increment, higher tax on unimproved land, higher graduated income tax, higher inheritance tax, tax on profits, lower tax on improvements, income tax on profits. The U.F.O. platform has been more definite than the Labor platform as to the taxation policy, but little difficulty is expected in the two groups in getting together on that subject. The bulk of the farmers in the province may be suspicious of any move to make the land carry most of the burden of taxation, but local option for towns and cities would leave the rural districts free to adjust the matters to suit themselves.

The Labor group also desires a change to the banking system, with a tendency toward nationalization.

The programme for legislative action promises to include something not indicated by either the Farmer or Labor platforms, namely, the encouragement of some form of co-operative organization whereby the consumer in the cities will obtain cheaper foodstuffs without a reduction in the prices secured by the producer on the farm. The U.F.O. already is conducting a chain of co-operative stores.

Announcement

Having sold our Red Deer business, we take this opportunity of thanking our many friends and customers for their loyal support and liberal patronage during the fifteen years we have been in business here, and we assure you it is with great regret we sever a connection which has become so pleasant and satisfactory to us.

We are glad to advise you that we are leaving a very worthy successor in our stead in the person of Mr. E. M. Smith, whom we heartily recommend to you. We are satisfied you will make no mistake in continuing your patronage to him.

All accounts owing Cushing Bros. will be looked after by Mr. K. M. Byers, who will remain a short time for that purpose.

CUSHING BROS., Limited

Ballance Meat Market

Having purchased the Alexander and McLaughlin Meat Market businesses, we solicit a continuance of the trade done with these well known firms.
